Foreword

¶ In the ensuing pages our wish and purpose is:

¶ To chronicle faithfully the history of a year at Augusta;

¶ To bring back to the hearts and memories of those who have been members of the corps the happenings and reminiscences of days gone by.

¶ To express, to our utmost ability, the spirit that is so priceless and dear to

The Constant Name

In these times, when fortunes court,
In these days of fame,
Every man must "strut his stuff,"
Must have a "high-brow" name.

A "Trumpeter," in days of yore
A "Bugler" then was he,
"Musician" to his cadet friends,
These times demand all three.

Just take today; a rear-rank man,
A "Private" in the mass;
The social world hails him by
A "Private—First Class."

Now look again, a "Corporal" proud,
To every man a foe,
They've even dared to boost his name,
They called him—"N. C. O."

But what is worse, a "Platoon Guide,"
Now surely that sounds fine!
Has changed his name to sound like this,
A "Sergeant-Of-The-Line."

"Lieutenant" is not grand enough,
His name's been altered too,
He used to be just plain old "First,"
But now he's "Senior Lieu."

"The Captain," Sir: was the "Old Man"
To all his organization,
He's "Company Commander" now,
They've changed his appellation.

8

But there's one name, bear it with pride,
'Twill never change, don't fret,
The most high-sounding name of all,
The "A. M. A. Cadet."

—H. A. Jacob.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS

Military

THE Reserve Officers Training Corps of the Augusta Military Academy trains men to become second lieutenants in the infantry officers Reserve Corps of the United States Army.

When a man has completed a year here he has been taught infantry drill, map-making, and marksmanship. The next year he receives instruction in musketry, scouting, patrolling, and elementary field engineering. In the advance course of his last two years he receives instruction in machine-gunning, accompanying weapons for infantry minor tactics, and military law.

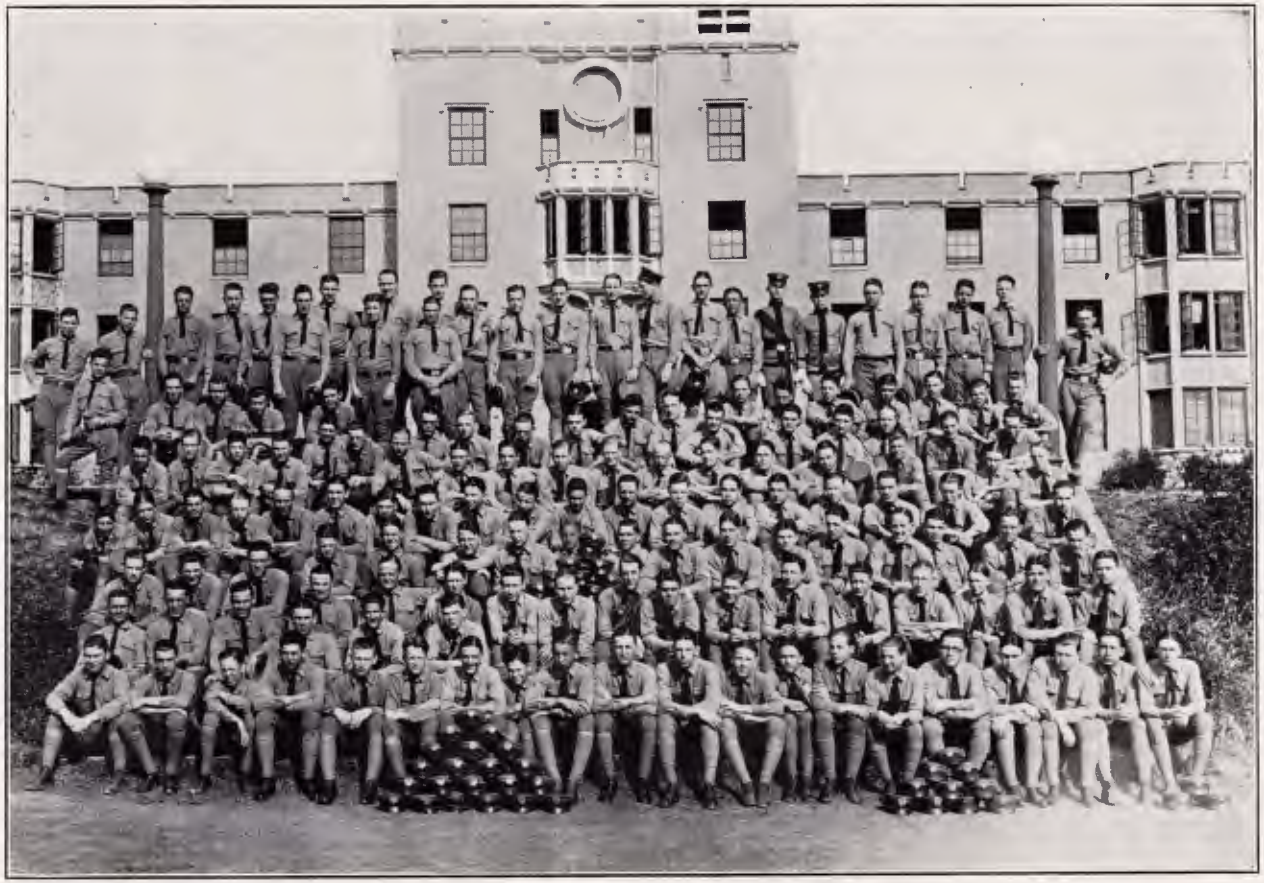

Upon the completion of four years' work, one summer camp, and provided he is physically fit, the successful candidate is given a Reserve Commission in Infantry of the United States Army.

Military training has obvious advantages. It is designed to help qualities of leadership in initiative in the men taking it.

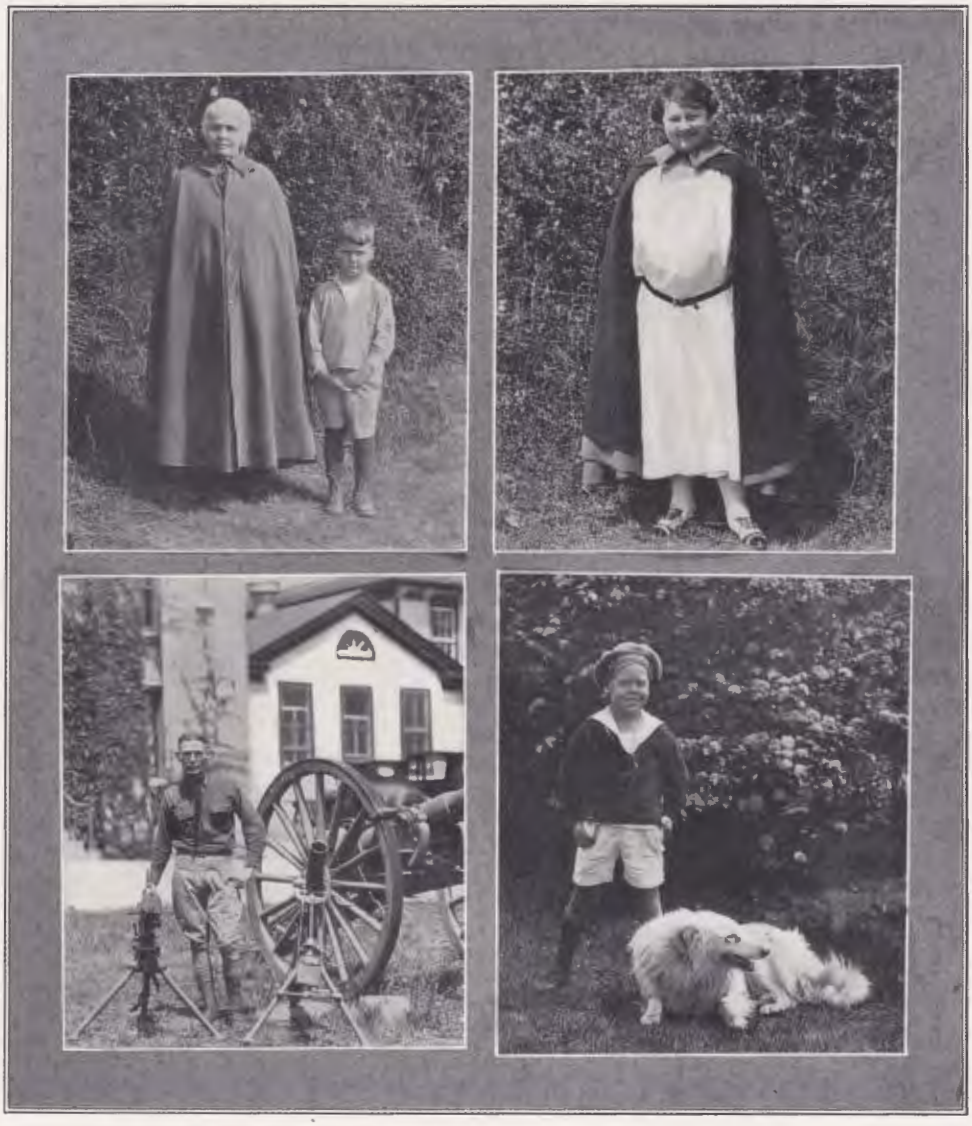

The work, besides being intensively interesting, can be adapted to civil life as readily as military life. The impression seems to exisit that military training has only military value, where as such is not the case. The benefits derived from the training received at Augusta is useful to the civilian as it emphasizes the development of the individual responsibility and initiative in a manner found in no other course, and these are qualities much sought after by the employer of men.

The past year can easily be put down on record as one of the most successful.

At the time of the publication of this book we had already been notified by the War Department that we were one of the few schools to be inspected some time before June. If the present drive and spirit avails when the inspectors arrive, Augusta Military Academy will go down on the War Department books for the third time as one of the Ten Honor Schools.

McNEAL SECRETARY AND TREASURER
LANGHORNE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

It is true that the Ciceronian Literary Society in the past few years has made leaps and bounds to success, but never before in the history of the school has such spirit been shown or such masterful debaters, orators, and declaimers been on the platform. Yet we hope it is but a stepping stone to success, and that in years to come the stairway shall be built that even Cicero may well be proud.

The subjects of debate have all been of world-wide national interest, each complicated, educational, and interesting. We have made great changes in world's politics. We have abolished Labor Unions, National Debts, and proven beyond a shadow of a doubt that it is against the principles of Democracy for the United States to treat the Indians as they do.

Also on various occasions our able official Critic has brought out and discussed the finer points of parliamentary rule. We have been honored by many well-prepared and beautifully-delivered debates, followed by voluntary debates that would astound Patrick Henry, Daniel Webster, or any other debater of prominence. Here we give Mr. Gresham a vote of thanks, the man who is always willing and ready to do his bit to make our societies worth while. It would be amiss to conclude the final record of the 1923 Society without first thanking the school as a whole for its invaluable support.

The Y. M. C. A. is a religious organization that meets in Memorial Hall every Sunday night.

This year it has been unusually successful under the careful direction of Capt. McLaughlin. Through his efforts and the Cabinet several delightful programs have been put through, which have afforded the members a great amount of pleasure.

During this school year the enrollment has been increased twenty per cent. over that of last year. It can easily be said that the "Y" is one of the livest organizations here.

Through the frequent visits of Capt. Gilliam and the hearty support of Major Jacob this year's Y. M. C. A. has proved itself to be the best in the history of the school.

MAJOR H. A. JACOB TEACHER
A. C. RAY, JR. PRESIDENT
W. J. DORSEY VICE-PRESIDENT
W. GASTON CAPERTON, JR. SECRETARY AND TREASURER

The A. M. A. Bible Class, better known as the "Gilliam Class," has gone far beyond the expectations of the school this year. This is due to our able and loyal teacher, Major H. A. Jacob, chosen because of his qualities of leadership and positive Christian life, three years ago when Frank J. Gilliam, the founder, went to the heart of Africa as the "A. M. A. Missionary."

The class enrollment this year is one hundred and eighty-one, and the attendance is far better than any before. It is not with a sense of duty that the little class assembles in the session house every Sunday after the main service, but with enthusiasm and a keen desire to learn the teachings of the Bible which our teacher brings out so vividly.

We have been fortunate in getting on various occasions speakers from neighboring schools and colleges, and over 100 per cent. attendance turned out to hear Capt. Gilliam lecture on his works in the foreign fields. We are indeed indebted and wish to thank those cadets that have made many of our meetings a success with their readings, declamations, and vocal and instrumental selections.

We know that in years to come the "A. M. A. Bible Class" will not be mere name, but a living organization, dominating many of the activities of the student body, and affecting at least indirectly the life of each individual.

Cheer Leaders

A. M. A. Spirit

Fifty-seven years ago Col. C. S. Roller opened a small military school near Fort Defiance, Va., which has since been magnified and developed into one of the best in the country. It was in those youthful days of the school that there sprang into existence the wonderful tie of love and friendship which now constitutes the dearest element of Augusta life—the Spirit of A. M. A.

Even with its faultless barracks and efficient instructors, what would this school be today without its spirit? Our spirit is the soul of Augusta; it is the undercurrent that sweeps us on to bigger and better things; it is the reason that we strive to uphold and increase the standards of our school. What is anything without a soul?—merely an unfeeling, material existence.

Our spirit is manifest in every phase of school life—in our teams, our fellowship, our conduct, our studies, and our drills. It helps us to bear defeats and exult in victories. Why do we stand on the side lines and cheer with our very souls for the support of Augusta teams? Not merely because the teams are composed of our friends, but also because we are mutually bound by the same indomitable, ineffable spirit.

We never acknowledge defeat until the final whistle has blown; but, in victory or defeat, our spirit is the same and we always know our teams have done their best; for they share the same school and the same spirit as we.

Each man in the corps does his bit for the school in his own particular way. All of us aren't athletes, but that's not everything. There are many other ways of performing beneficiary services. Those boys who help their Alma Mater in branches of labor that do not receive public credit and attention are doing their bit along with the rest.

Our Spirit, pride, and traditions have been handed down to us from year to year until they have become something we are honor bound to uphold—something sacred for us to defend.

Fellows, do you realize that you owe a debt to the school which you can never fully pay? Do you realize that, no matter how much you do, you can never do enough for your Alma Mater? Let's keep it going—this spirit of ours—make it stronger and finer, for the sake of those who've been before us and those who will be after us.

STEEL, W. R.,

CAPTAIN—FULLBACK

It would be impossible to sketch Bill in the space allotted him, because he is a man of unusual ability, not only was he an ideal captain, one whom all respect and honor as a leader, but "Bill" was a wonderful gridiron warrior. In addition to being the most accurate heaver of forward passes ever seen on the Clay Bowl, he was a consistent ground-gainer, and equally as good at skirting the ends or smashing his way through the bulk of the line for gains. As a punter he was seldom equalled and never excelled. "Bill" had an educated toe that could smash a pigskin as if it had been shot out of a cannon. We hand it to you, "Bill." You rank at the top of the best, and the whole corps wishes you luck with the Generals next year.

KAVANAUGH

QUARTERBACK—ASSISTANT CAPTAIN

For two years "Eddie" has furnished the brains that directed the brawn of the Keydets and has earned for himself a high place in Augusta's football fame. To him is due a large part of the credit for A. M. A.'s success during the past two years. His superb generalship and his remarkable ability to skirt the ends were the outstanding features of his playing this year, as well as formerly. He has been chosen to lead the team next year and we are expecting big things from him.

WILLIAMSON, M.

HALFBACK—ASSISTANT CAPTAIN-ELECT

"Bake" did not report back to school until late in the season. However, he was in trim for playing the game, having played at the first of the season for Swathmore. He did not take long to convince the coaches of his ability, and was soon placed on the varsity line-up, which position he held for the remainder of the season. He played the game in a steady and consistent style—a barrier on the defense and vicious on the offense. He has been elected assistant for next year's team, and we are hoping for his return.

CRAWFORD, "CHICK"

END

"Chick" was one of the hardest workers on this year's team, and he could always be depended on to give his best. As an end he was very fast in getting down the field under punts, and on the defense he could be relied upon to get his man. "Chick" is a good example of Augusta Spirit, "Never Say Die." At the beginning of the season he received injuries which kept him from playing the back-field where he had played two years previous. Mention must be made that "Chick" has yet to find an opposing end that he cannot circle. However, "Chick" kept coming this season with his "Charlie-horse," and in the clash with Fishburne he proved to be an important factor. "Chick" will certainly be missed next year.

VENABLE

TACKLE

"Bill" had hard luck this season. He was hampered by sickness at the first of the season, and it was necessary for him to leave school for some time. He returned just in time to star in the Woodberry game. "Bill" always tried his hardest at practise or in games, and we feel sure that no man put forth more hard labor for the team than he. Although he is as yet undetermined concerning his next year's whereabouts, we'll be pulling for him strong wherever he may be.

KENNEDY

Guard

Some idea of Kennedy's ability may be obtained from the fact that he was selected by the leading football authorities in the state as Howard's running-mate at guard on the mythical All-State eleven. We could never give "Cook" credit for his full value to our team. He is one of those few men who never experience an off day. He was an outstanding star in every contest. His usual physical power and quickness in solving the plays, and his ability to break them up, has made him a man to be respected and feared by every team that opposes him. This was "Crook's" first season in the game, and he was naturally handicapped at the onset of the year by his lack of experience. But his love of the game and his natural facilities were not to be denied. Even from the first his playing was a feature. "Crook" has left a record at A. M. A. which has seldom been equalled. We have no fear of him not making good at college next year. We hate to lose you, "Crook," old man, but we "sho' " wi h you the best o' luck.

RANGELY

Tackle

This season was Dope's first year with us. He proved himself well able to take care of the territory allotted to him. He is a hard man to move on the defense, and takes great pleasure in smashing through the opposing line when on the offense. He showed himself a steady man and improved as the season progressed. He was especially active and flashy in the important game with Fishburne. We are hoping that "Dope" will return and strengthen our line-up for next year.

GUVERNATOR

Fullback

"The line plunging of Guvernator was phenomenal." This sentence taken from the account of the Woodberry game as an apt description of "Goovy's" playing throughout the entire season. "Cake" could rip open a hole with a vim that set the opposition back every time he carried the ball; he was unusually strong on the defense and could always be relied upon behind the line. In returning punts, in passing the ball, and in receiving passes, "Cake" was hard to beat. His work stood out prominently in every game of the season.

ARMISTEAD

GUARD

A newcomer in the Blue and White football circle and a recruit from Episcopal High School proved a dependable guard. He played in every game of the season. He was one of the seediest of the linemen and showed to the best advantage on the offensive when he was ever scheduled to make a wide gap in opponent's line. "Rabbit" developed wonderfully this season under Captain Summers' coaching, and should prove well in any line next year. His low smashing drives made him a tower of strength, and many of the opponents' plays came to grief due to his work.

DORSEY, "BILL"

END

"Bill" is an example of what grit and steady plugging will accomplish in athletics. Starting as a substitute four years ago he refused to be discouraged, and was gradually converted into a linesman of no mean ability. Bill received his opportunity in the encouner of the first game of the season, and from then on his competition was mighty small. His ability on the defense as well as on the offense was taken advantage of by the coaches. "Bill" was put down as one of the ablest ends that ever supported the much-coveted "A."

HOWARD

CENTER

"Stump" is one of the few men who played for the fun of it. At the same time there never lived an A. M. A. warrior who played more consistent. His quick and accurate passing, ability to break up plays behind the opposing lines, tackle, make holes, was what put "Stump" on the mythical All-State prep eleven picked by the combined vote of the best coaches in Virginia. He was a star in every contest, and gained the entire confidence of his team-mates. His absence from the line-up would have proved a severe handicap and a source of demoralization to the entire team. He was a versatile man and strong in every department of the game. We sincerely hope to have "Stump" with us again next fall.

McARTHUR

Halfback

Backing up the line, "Scotty" has few equals, even in men of his superior weight. He is one of the hardest tacklers that ever fought on the "Clay Bowl," and many are the men who have realized this fact from sad experience. In addition to his work on the defensive he is an unusually hard man to stop on a line buck or an end run. His work in the Newport News game deserves especial mention, while his playing of every game this season was of the highest order.

SMITH, K.

Tackle

"Smitty" came to us with three years' experience on the Lynchburg High team behind him. He was a valuable man from the first, and although constantly handicapped by a bad knee, continued to be one of our most dependable players throughout the season. He played the game best on the defense. We verily believe that "Smitty" would tackle anything from a rabbit to an elephant. He is planning to enter college next fall, and we will watch his career there with greatest interest.

SULLIVAN

End

In "Sully" we find one of the ablest ends that Augusta has ever turned out. His splendid work this season shows that he will some day be a second "Red Roberts." Always in every play, he was a large factor in the showing of the Augusta aggregation made against their opponents. He possessed wonderful ability to hold out the opposing tackle, and his loss next season will no doubt be greatly felt.

FICK

Tackle

"Ficky" is a player who gives his all to every branch of athletics in which he engages. Possessed of a powerful, supple physic, he is a steady and dependable lineman whose territory the opposing backs do well to avoid. He is not in the slightest degree lacking aggressive power to tear wide gaps in the opponents' line, when called on to do so, and is especially valuable on the defense. Fick improved visibly as the season progressed, and we are counting on him as a mainstay in the line of next year's varsity.

MAGIE

Halfback

Either considering or not considering his small size, you've got to hand it to Petey that he's a mighty fine player. Quicker than a flash is Magie when he tucks the pigskin under his arm and gets under way! His opponents are confronted with an enormous problem to even see him, much less tackle him! Those who saw the game will never forget that dazzling run which "Petey" pulled in the W. and L. Freshman game. He's leaving us this year, and we hate to see him go, but good luck to you, "Husk."

LIPSCOMB

Guard

This year "Val" has developed into one of the best guards that ever wore the "A." A hard fighter, a fierce tackler, and a man always holding his own, made him a valuable element to this year's eleven. His playing was of the highest order, and not a few guards have learned, to their sorrow, what sort of a man he is. He was a fit running mate for Kennedy, and we are looking forward to his strengthening the line next year.

Football Resume

BEFORE commencing the history of the football season, we first wish to thank our able coaches. We know that thanks and praise but ill express all that these men did to make Old Augusta's team go down in the traditions of the school the pluckiest and the hardest-fighting eleven that ever adorned the Blue and White.

Our head coach, Capt. W. F. Drewry, the celebrated end of V. M. I.'s winning team of '21, proved even more capable as a coach. His lasting knowledge of the finer points of the game with his incomparable ability to instill them into the minds of the seemingly green men caused comment, along with amazement from all that had the luck to attend the games.

Capt. F. L. Summers, the leader of the "Flying Squadron" of '21, proved himself the most valuable line coach A. M. A. has ever had. Starting with no letter men, he produced a line that had wide reputation as a stone wall. He developed two All-State guards, and got several honorable mentions for other men of his line.

Capt. E. M. Clark and J. C. B. McLaughlin, the assistant coaches, rendered valuable aid to the head coaches. They succeeded in making a scrub team that won several games and always gave the varsity a hard fight. To the scrubs a large part of the season's success is due, and we wish them all the best of luck and unbounded glory next year.

The first game of the season was played on our own field October 7th, with W. and L. Freshmen, who outweighed us fifteen pounds to the man and beat us by a score of 6-0, because the field was muddy and our light backfield was unable to get started. The team put up a splendid fight and showed up exceptionally for the first game.

The next game, with V. M. I. Junior Varsity, also proved disastrous. We were handicapped by having four varsity men out of the game. However, Augusta scored in the third quarter when Dorsey recovered a fumble and carried it sixty yards for a touch-down. V. M. I. opened up from time to time with an aerial attack, but were unsuccessful. They made most of their gains around ends. Magie "got loose" several times for long gains, but was never able to carry the ball over. V. M. I. made three touch-downs, failing to kick goal in all attempts. The final score was 18-6.

October 21st found us over at Charlottesville facing Woodberry on the Lambeth Field. The boys from Orange played in their usual good luck. Augusta carried the ball three times in the first half to the goal line, but lost it every time by fumbles. The defensive playing of Kennedy and Howard, the punting of Steele, and the passing of McArthur made the game one not to be forgotten. The boys in blue made one splendid drive in the last few minutes of the game—had the whistle blown three minutes later the score would have been decidedly different. For the last three years the score has been the same—0 to 0.

The game with S. V. A. on October 28th was one of the hardest-fought games of the schedule. Augusta carried the ball across the goal line three times, but brought back every time. The only score was three points made by a beautiful drop from the thirty-yard line by Steele, A. M. A.'s fullback. In this game A. M. A. was penalized 120 yards.

The following week the team met the freshmen from U. Va. In this game our boys displayed some beautiful playing, but the college team was a little too strong for us in the last quarter, when they scored two touchdowns, one by a forward pass and one by an end run. They kicked but one goal, making the final score 13 to 0.

On November 11th the strong team of E. H. S. completely spilled the dope in Alexandria by amassing seventeen points to Augusta's seven. In this game the "Keydets" showed a drive punch that at times enables them to wade through the High boys easily, but our opponents were just a little too strong for us in the last half. However, Kavanaugh managed to make a beautiful forty-yard run for a touchdown in the last five minutes of play.

The annual classic with F. M. S. on November the 18th proved to be one of the best games of the season. The dope was against us, but Augusta got the jump from the very start, scoring in the first ten minutes of play, and the fast and accurate playing up to the third quarter enabled us to make two more tallies. In the last half the Waynesboro boys made a splendid comeback, scoring two touchdowns, failing to kick either goals. The final score A. M. A. 20, F. M. S. 12.

R. M. A. fell an easy victim to the Blue and White, succumbing with a 48 to 0 score, the Keydets using straight football in cavalry manner. The outcome of the game was never in doubt, but the losers fought hard throughout the entire game.

The closing game of the season was with Apprentice School in Newport News on Thanksgiving day. The two teams were evenly matched, but the first quarter was marred by one of those streaks of ill-fortune which are disastrous to a team which is playing on a foreign field. Augusta's line held extremely well throughout the entire game, the Apprentice boys making most of their gains by forward passes. The final score was 14 to 0 in their favor.

During the past season against the strong team of Fishburne and a heavy aggregation from Alexandria and all the other games our team displayed scientific football and hard fighting at all times. The entire team and substitutes worked together in a manner which won praise from all who saw them play. As a whole, there were no individual stars, but it would be well to mention that Kennedy and Howard were picked for All-State guards.

Basket-Ball Team

KENNEDY

Captain—Guard

"Crook" led the team through the season and was one of the most valuable men on it. His passing, shooting, and all-round floor work was no small factor in the Blue and White's string of victories. It might be well to state that if he had not been knocked out on account of injuries he would no doubt gone down in basket-ball records as an All-State man for the second time. An old head at the game, "Crook" made an excellent cagester. This is his last year with us, and every one extends their best wishes in his great college athletic career which awaits him. "Crook" as a leader held both the respect and love of the men. His spirit, always enthusiastic and unselfish, was, perhaps, the most notable. Best wishes for a big year at V. P. I. next year, "Crook."

DORSEY

Assistant Captain—Forward

A star of two years' experience, Bill was one of the most brilliant forwards in the state. His accuracy on long shots and beautiful pass work proved a source of dismay to the opposing players, his work in the Carolina Freshman game was particularly of high order, when time and time again he brought the spectators to their feet with magnificent shots, scoring a total of nine field goals. His hard, earnest, and clean playing won him praise on both sides. Augusta will feel the loss of an ideal athlete next season.

CRAWFORD

Guard

In "Chick" we have a wonder. Many of our victories were due to this A. M. A. warrior who had the ability to keep the opposing teams from scoring. Many were the plays which ran almost of the court only to be broken up by this guardian of our goal. His specialty was recovering the ball from the backboard and passing it out of the danger zone, and his wonderful all-around work placed him among the leading guards of the state.

LEWIS, "RUBBER"

Guard

"Rubber" has been the mainstay on Augusta's quints for the past two years, and his playing this year was even above par, which is saying a great deal considering his performances of the past year. One of the fastest guards in the state, a hard fighter, and an unerring shot, "Rubber" made an ideal player. Although one of the shortest men on the team, he was able to take care of himself and the other fellow at all times.

McCLEARY

Forward

Another Pennsylvania Wisotzkey dropped in our midst this year, an excellent dribbler, a sure shot from any angle. Mc. was a great aid to the Augusta Five. A hard and willing worker, unexcelled in his scientific knowledge, and carrying it out in full effect, he outclassed his opponents in every respect. Go get 'em, Mc., we are banking on you in the future.

RANGELY

Center

"Dope" played a consistent game this year throughout and was a great asset on the defensive as well as on the offensive. He made a good center and put out a scrapping game. "Dope" received his early training at Bluefield High School. Upon the strength of his exhibition this year, we feel sure we possess an All-State man for next year.

McARTHUR

Center

"Scotty" was a tower of strength to the team, one of the hardest players who ever wore Blue and White. He was not only an excellent center, but he showed up exceedingly well in any position he may have been called on to fill. Always aggressive and extremely valuable in dribbling the ball out of the enemy's terirtory. "Scotty" has a keen eye for the basket and drops them in with the greatest of ease and accuracy. Here's luck to you, "Mac.

MAGIE

Guard

Petey never failed to show the old Irish fight, and always held his opponent down to a low score. He was not only a tenacious guard, but an excellent shot and an accurate passer, always ready to break up any rally started by the opponents. Petey is one of our track stars, and shows the same speed on the floor which enables him to handle the ball with the greatest ease. Petey was the life of the entire team. His consistent plugging has many times spelled defeat for our opponents.

Basketball Resume

IT CAN be easily understood, by those who saw our team in action this year, that we had one of the best prep school teams in the state. When the call came for volunteers, about forty men turned out and from that number our coaches had great trouble in choosing a team that won fame for itself and Augusta. Terminating the season with a second well-earned victory over Fishburne, on our floor, on March 3rd, the Augusta Blues succeeded in annexing six of the thirteen games on their schedule by large scores, which goes to prove the strength of the varsity during the season. Out of the games lost, three of them may be attributed to the fact that our able center was out of the game on account of sickness, which placed the team in a very crippled condition. Although there were men sufficiently able to take his place, the team seemed at a loss and were unable to get together.

Kennedy, our captain, also Crawford, Lewis, and Dorsey, of last year's team, were all back and formed the backbone of the team. McCleary and Rangeley, both excellent players, helped to make up a strong quintet. McArthur and Magie were able substitutes and played like "regulars" when put in the game.

After two weeks of hard practice, the season opened January 19th with a hard-fought game with Virginia Freshmen on the Virginia floor. Throughout the game it seemed impossible for either team to gain the lead, and the score was first in Virginia's favor, then ours. At the end of the first half Augusta held a lead of two points over her opponents, but they, coming back strong in the second half, succeeded in making the final score 22-19 for Virginia.

The following day, January 20th, we met our old rivals, Bridgewater College, on their floor. Again we were defeated by a large margin of 39-13. Although our team saw that they were defeated in the first half, they staged a wonderful come-back in the second, displaying that "Do or die" spirit for which Augusta is famous.

Our next game was with Episcopal High in Lynchburg on January 26th, which proved, sad to say, another defeat, 42-14. The team had practiced hard all during the previous week and were in excellent shape, working together as some great machine, but misfortune was in our way.

On January 29th we met Woodberry on our floor. This proved to be an exciting game and in many instances we were in fear lest they should claim the game. The first half was succesful for neither team, but the star-playing of Kennedy, Dorsey, and McCleary in the second half gave us a lead that helped us to end the game with a victorial score of 39-23. This game proved to be the first that Woodberry had lost in a number of years.

Again Augusta triumphed over their opponents when they carried off the large end of a 19-16 score from Bridgewater on February 2nd, played on our floor. This being the second game with Bridgewater, the Cadets fought exceptionally hard to prevent them from claiming a second victory. Until the last few minutes of the game our rivals were in the lead, but by the long field goals made by Lewis and the accurate floor passing of the whole team, we succeeded in gaining the lead and holding it until the final whistle. McCleary made a field goal during the last twenty seconds of the game, which brought the score to a safer margin.

For the second time this season, we met the Virginia Freshmen on February 10th, at home. It was an interesting and exciting game in which keen science was used by both teams during the entire contest. No one was able to ascertain its final outcome until the end of the game, revealing an 18-13 score in Virginia's favor.

This year was the first time for a number of seasons that we played the Carolina Freshmen. We met them on February 14th at home and, after a vicious and hard-fought game, lost it to them with a score of 37-24. Dorsey exhibited wonderful passing and shooting during the entire game, throwing fear into the opponents and exciting applause from time to time from the Augusta supporters. Crawford and McCleary played wonderful games; in fact, every member of our team was in "tip-top" condition and working like a well-oiled piece of mechanism.

Next arrived our old rivals, Fishburne, whom we defeated in a fast contest by a score of 39-29. We met them on their floor February 16th, and completely surprised them with the team-work and accuracy of our quintet. A. M. A. started fast and held the lead all during the game. Every man played a wonderful game, and it is hard to determine who deserves the most credit. This game proved what Augusta was able to do with its wonderful facilities for working together.

After a hard-fought battle for victory, V. E. S. carried off the large end of a 27-16 score on February 17th, at Fort Defiance. They started out at a pace that pressed the Augusta boys hard from the start, and although Crawford did remarkable passing and shooting, we were unable to cope with their brilliant forward, Meade, who made goals from all parts from the floor.

At the end of the game with S. V. A. on February 19th Augusta found herself again a victor and holding a winning score of 38-26 against her opponents. Although Augusta took the lead at the very first and held it, the game was not without brilliant plays from both teams.

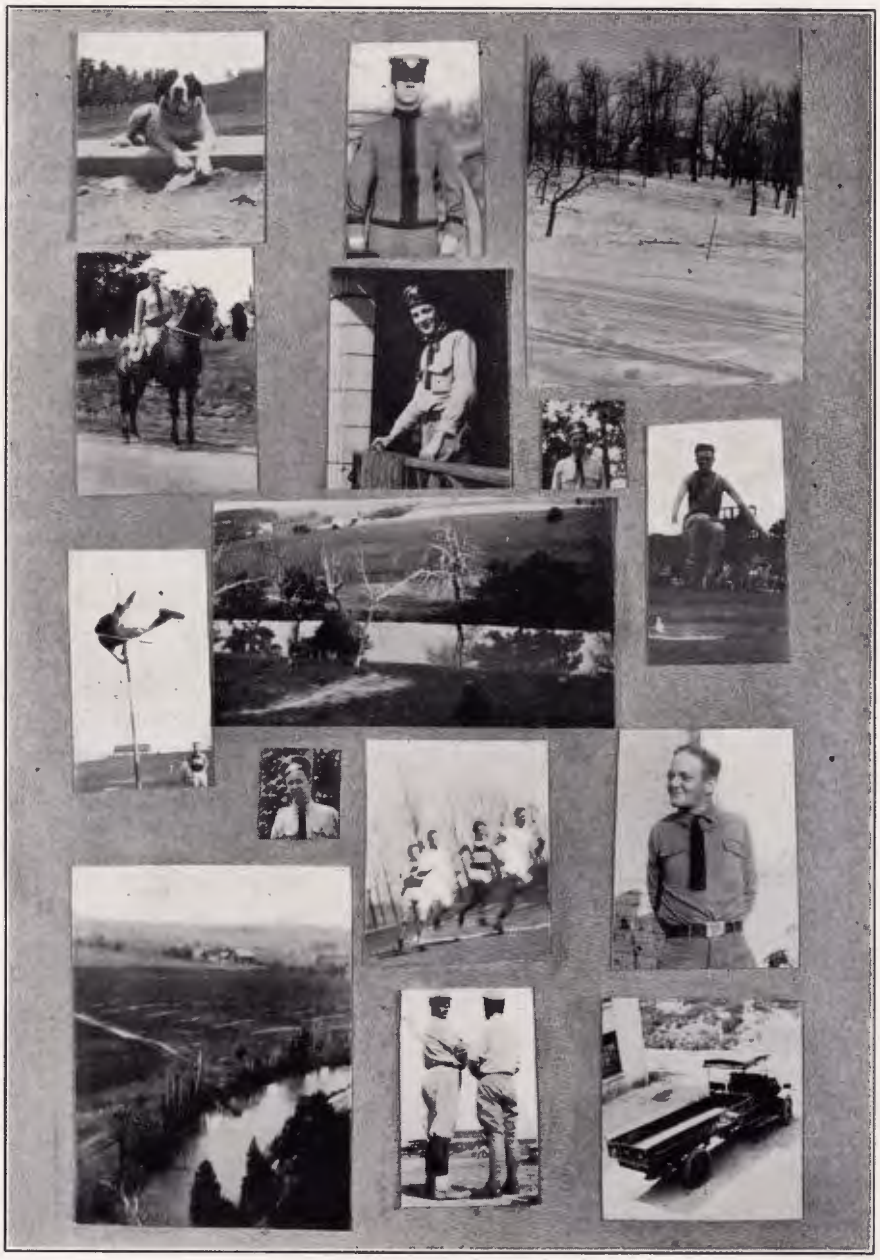

February 23rd found us facing the V. M. I. Junior Varsity. During the whole contest it was a close battle and not until the latter part of the game was anyone able to see which team had the advantage. But when the whistle was blown Augusta was victor in a score of 20-17.

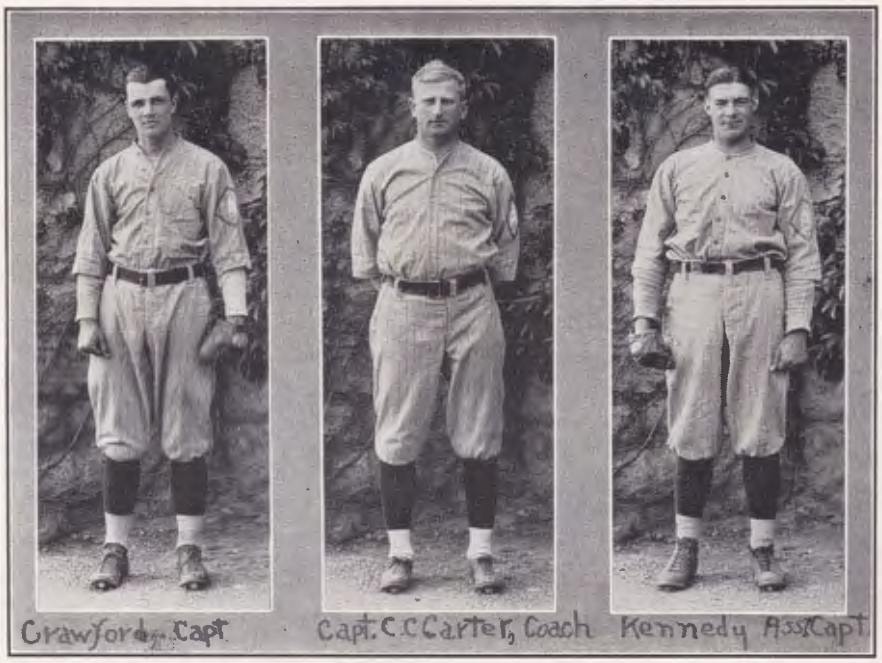

The final game of the season, which was the second game with Fishburne, as is invariably the case when old rivals meet, was very rough. At first, by brilliant team-work, the Fishburnites threw a scare into Augusta's supporters by caging several goals, and it looked as though Augusta was unable to get together, but they did, and in true running form finished with a victorious score of 25-14.

Taking everything as a whole, this year's team was an entire success, and we are hoping that next year's team may prove as strong and as valiant as this one and that the "Scrubs" next year will be as beneficial to the team as they were this year.

The Corps wishes to express their thanks to the loyal coaches, Captains Drewry and Summers, for their interest and undivided attention given our team during the season. We also hope that in years to come they may have as much success as they have had in the past season.

Capt. Carter

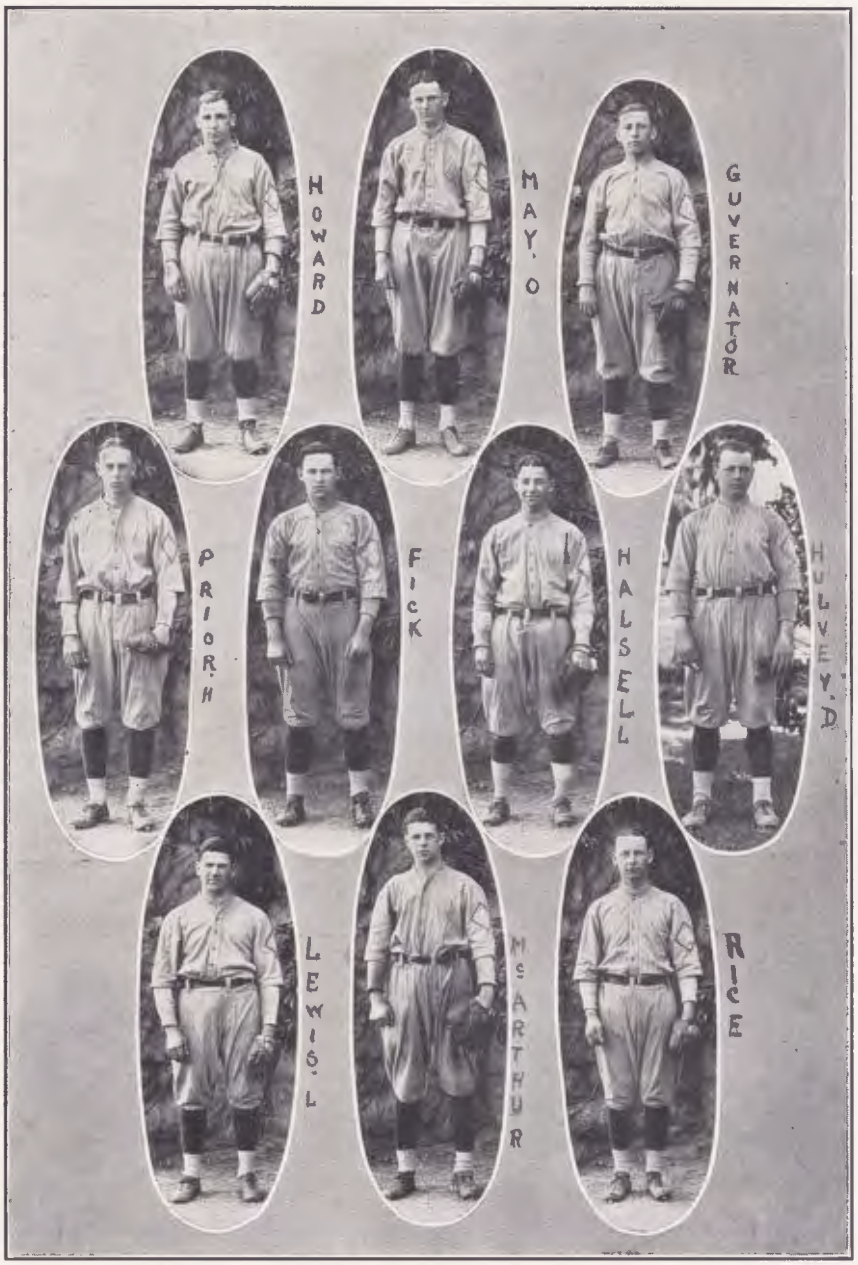

Good teams do not always from good material grow, nor poor teams from mediocre material. It is the guiding hand of the "coach" which often causes this reversal of form, or the "upsetting of the dope"—a weak hand may cause havoc with material of the finest, and by the same token, a firm hand may inspire weaker material to such efforts that he causes "bushers" to become, and to disport themselves, like their more talented brothers of the "big top"—a coach of a firm hand and unerring judgment is "Nick." A coach for excellence, one who handles good material, which he often has, like a Connie Mack, or one who (and this is a far harder job) molds weaker material, which he more often has, into a perfectly co-ordinated machine, the name Carter is synonomous throughout the state with good baseball.

TO SAY that we are the undisputed champions of Virginia is no more false than the law of gravitation is false when it makes a dress sit on conventionally. We played twenty games and won twenty, defeating over fourteen high school and four college junior varsity teams, and making two hundred and fifteen runs to our opponents' forty-two. What a baseball team! The greatest baseball team Augusta has ever had. This team will go down in history as one hardly to be expected to be equalled in many years to come. Augusta, you have a high standard to maintain, and may the future years bring other teams like this one of 1923.

Why did Augusta have such a great baseball team? There is but one answer—"The Augusta Spirit." Every man on the team fights, not when his team is winning, but all the time, while three hundred other cadets were giving their support.

No more can be said about the team as a whole, so below follows a detailed account of the individual playing:

McARTHUR

Scotty is not one of those flashy players that now and then bring the crowd to its feet, but he is one that always gains the admiration of everybody by the way he plays the game. He is i nthe thick of the fray from the first ball to the last of the ninth; behind or in front, he is forever in there fighting. His influence over the team is tremenodus, and the morale of the other men kept from the depths that it is wont to descend at times when things go wrong by the spirit that Mac always puts into his work. A team is lucky to have such a man as Scotty behind the bat, and we shall sorely miss him when he is gone.

MAY

This is Ote's first year on the team, but he has made a record in his maiden season that is mighty hard to equal. He has pitched most of his games as one and two-hit affairs and has three shut-outs to his credit. He is a quiet, humble, unassuming fellow that enters a game along with his whole soul thrown in. It is an inspiring sight to see this little 130-pounder stand out on the rubber and throw 'em by so fast and "crooked" that not infrequently a batter stands in amazement, wondering what it is all about. We are happy to say that Ote will be back in an A. M. A. uniform next year chucking the horse-hide faster than ever.

KENNEDY

Assistant Captain

Crook has been alternating between the box and the outfield this season, and has played a consistently good game at both places. At Dayton, early in the season, he looked like a million dollars, when he turned back S. C. I.'s vets as fast as they came up and beat them 4 to 1 in eleven innings. At the bat he is always a dangerous man; on bases he is a veritable Ty Cobb. This is Mell's Nth year on the team, and we are only sorry that he will not be back to make another.

RICE

Spikker is the other side of the pitching triangle. In all the games that he has undertaken he has turned in a victory, his opponents garnering but a brace of hits or so. The Skipper is an athlete that many an aspirant for athletic fame could probably imitate. It makes no difference how things are going for him, you never see him complain or alibi. He plays the game hard and clean, whether he is winning or losing. On and off the field he is a perfect gentleman, and it makes one feel good to be around him. This is his second year on the team, and we trust that next year will find the old Sea-Captain out on Clay Bowl cocking that foot higher than ever and throwing those balls that make a corkscrew look like a yardstick.

PRIOR

This first-sacker of ours is called George by his team-mates; they don't call him that because he resembles George III. or because he reminds them of a boot-black or a bell-hop. They call him George because Mr. George Sisler, the peer of all First Basemen, has had the misfortune to b eout of the game up to this time and they thought that Howard reminded them of him more than anybody they could find. They seemed to have named him well, too, as he gets the high ones, the low ones, the wide ones, with all the ease in the world. He has played a really remarkable game this year, and we look forward to reading about him cavorating around that initial hassock at Princeton, the place that he is bound for next year.

CRAWFORD

Captain

When a man can hit to within a hair's breadth of five hundred in twenty games we have to doff our hats to him. This is what the Captain of the team did: He hit .478, and the hits he got were of all kinds, from a mean little bunt to those that come from Lilly Creek wet and unfit for further use. On the bases Chick is as fast as you find 'em, and many a time has it looked that he would surely purloin some unfortunate catcher's glove. This is his third and last year on the team. From here he goes to Carolina, probably, whose gain will be our great big loss. If he must go, though, we hope he will continue to wield that willow as furiously as he has for us. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to all pitchers and catchers that Chick will face in the future.

FICK

"Speaking About Baseball," we wish to introduce you to the Assistant Captain of our next year's team, Mr. Dorsey Fick of Richmond. Go out and scour the country far and wide, and you won't find another Teamish. He says little, but that isn't his fault; he just wasn't intended to talk a whole lot. But on that ball field he has the Pep; you can see that in his every move. He goes and gets them to his right and left, and throws them from any position with rifle-like precision. Can he hit 'em? Ask most any pitcher he has faced, or any right fielder that has been so unfortunate as to have to chase some of his blows. This is Ficky's second year on the team, and we are happy to say that he will be back prancing about in the short field next year. It is rumored that he will play in some Sunday school league during the summer. If this be so we are surprised at Teamish: we didn't think he would want to bankrupt a league by losing all the "apples."

HULVEY

Captain-elect Hulvey has completed his third year on an A. M. A. team and has established a record that will probably hold for some time to come: He has hit for an average of .400 or better in three years. In doing this, he has hit many a time when "a thousand eyes were upon him," when a hit meant victory; when no hit meant defeat. Seldom has old Dwight failed us. It is unfortunate that his fielding record has not been kept, as it would doubtless be as remarkable as that made with the club. He is a consistent, everyday, under-all-conditions ball player that would be a valuable addition to any team. With all his ability he mixes a good humor, an affable personality that will keep those about him in a happy frame of mind, a thing so essential to any successful team.

GUVERNATOR

Guvey is not the fastest man on earth, nor has he the best arm on earth, nor does he hit them farther than all the rest, but he possesses an abundant amount of what it takes to win baseball games: Fight. You may watch him in games or in practice and you will always find him digging hard and playing the game with his whole soul. This indomitable will to get there has made him a valuable player. He hits when hits are needed, he lays down perfect bunts at opportune times, he gets on bases when his presence there is needed most; and in the fields he is practically a sure shot on everything he gets hold of. Guvy has certainly done his bit toward making the 1923 season a success.

HOWARD

Our center garden is handsomely taken care of by our Scottish friend, Stump Howard. Stump has no peer as an outfielder among the teams that he has played against this year, or last, so far that that goes. He "shags" 'em long and short, to his right and left; he gets all of them that start his direction. He has made a good lead-off man and in lots of games has started his team-mates off with the first man up on base. On the base paths he is a fellow that can outguess and outrun his opponent, and his presence there is always more or less demoralizing to his opponents. With it all he is a jolly good man, always full of fun, always creating an atmosphere of good fellowship around the team. Such men as Stump on a team make it a real joy to play ball. He and his buddy, Scotty, go to V. P. I. next year, and we shall surely miss them.

HALSELL

The man to whom the guardianship of Lilly Valley is entrusted is our diminutive right-fielder, Jack Halsell from the Lone Star State. Jack has been battling ofr a berth on the Varsity for three years, and at last won his spurs. This shows what a man can accomplish if he has the true athletic spirit. Every year he has been on the diamond every day yearning for a place on the team, but each year has seen somebody a little better take the place he was fighting for. At last he got there and he has played a stellar game throughout the season. His defensive work has been excellent, at times sensational, and his work at the bat and on the bases has been consistently good. With the bunt he is an artist and was a dependabel man at all times at one end of the squeeze play. He is another of those that will not be with us again next year; our best wishes go out to him wherever he goes.

Scrubs

Though their pictures do not appear here individually and their names are not singled out for honorable mention, there are some twenty-odd men that came on Clay Bowl every afternoon and gave all that they had to make the team a success. These men are the real heroes. They could see from almost the beginning that their abilities were outstripped by others; they knew that the baseball season had in store for them lots of hard work and self-sacrifice, with little or no recompense, as recompense is usually reckoned. They saw others that were not built as they shrink from competition and quit the squad, which made their work all the harder. Yet they stuck, came out every day and spent afternoon after afternoon doing nothing but chasing balls for the Varsity, taking the hard knocks that they might help along the team that represented their school. They cheered the team when it would leave them behind to go on a trip; they came out at every game to warm the bench and hear the applause and cheers given to those whom they were helping every day to succeed. These men spent three months of self-sacrifice, and they are the real heroes.

Track Squad

Track Squad

Track

AT THE beginning of the season prospects were not very bright, as there was only one letter man on the squad from the previous years. After our first meet with V. E. S. we found several stars who developed rapidly as the season progressed.

Magie, the captain of the team, could always be depended upon for points in the hurdles and dashes. The high-point man, however, was McPherson. There is hardly any event in track which he cannot do, and do well. His best event, however, is the four-forty, which he placed second at the scholastics. Next in points scored was Hogshire, his points were chiefly the result of broad-jumping and sprinting. In the W. & L. Freshmen meet "Piggy" jumped twenty feet seven inches.

In the distances our men were Bray, Thompson, and Blethen. By hard work Bray developed to be one of the best milers in the state. He would have no doubt have placed in the scholastic had he not have been sick at the time.

The field events were well cared for by Rangely, Wiles, Smith, Moss, and McCue. Rangely tied for first place in the scholastic meet in Charlottsville.

In all, we had five meets, not including the scholastic. In the first meet at Charlottesville with Virginia Freshmen and Woodberry, we did as well as could be expected, considering the lack of experience and condition. However, the next two we won rather easily from V. E. S. and Fishburne. At Lexington the following week we were defeated by Roanoke High by four points. This meet was not decided until the last event. The same week the W. & L. Freshmen defeated us by about twenty points. The season ended up in the final scholastic meet at Charlottesville in which we obtained fourth place.

The following men were awarded letters: Magie, McPherson, Hogshire, Bray, and Rangely. Crawford would have without a doubt won a letter had it not been for the fact that he was a member of the baseball team.

The team was very ably managed by Venable, and it was through him that such an excellent schedule was arranged.

In defeating Fishburne our season was a success. But this alone was not all, as the victory over V. E. S. and the defeat by Roanoke High, the high school champions goes to show.

By closing the 1923 track season credit must be given to our able coach, where it is more than justly due. Without the confident aid of Captain Summers this season would without a doubt have been amiss. As it is, it can be chronicled as the best team Augusta has ever put in the track field.

Speaking in behalf of the whole team, we wish to say that Captain Summers is a coach that knows track, and under him it is a pleasure as well as an honor to work, and we greatly appreciate his untiring efforts and patience. We sincerely hope to have him back next spring.

Swimming Team

CAPTAIN CLARK COACH
McPHERSON CAPTAIN
MARSTON ASSISTANT CAPTAIN

This year Augusta hails her tankmen state champions over all college freshmen and prep school teams in Virginia. Under the able coaching of Capt. Clark and the leadership of Swimming Captain McPherson the large squad that reported for practice was soon worked over and cut down to the regular team, composed of the following men, the first eleven of whom made letters: McPherson, Capt. Marston, Assistant Capt. Rice, Taylor, Holland, Gresham, Dearborn, Kavanaugh, Wright, Winslow, Wiles, and Bullock, L.

After three weeks of hard work the squad began to look in fine shape for the first meet, which was held in the Staunton Y. M. C. A. pool against Randolph-Macon Academy of Bedford, Va., on February 12th. This meet resulted in a complete victory for the Augusta swimmers, the score being 59 to 9, the Augusta men taking all first and all but one of the second places.

The return meet with R.-M. A., which took place at Bedford on February 19th, was a victory for Augusta by almost the same score. The R.-M. A. water-babies pushed up at the last of the meet and took two second places, but no first, the final score, A. M. A. 59, R.-M. A. 12.

On February 23rd, Augusta's team met the acquatic squad of her old rival, Fishburne, in Staunton, and again came home with the long end of a 48 to 20 score. Augusta took six first and six second places to two of each from Fishburne.

On February 26th, the A. M. A. swimmers went to Lexington to meet the strong Washington and Lee Freshmen team for the hardest meet of the season. Augusta won by the scant margin of one point, final score 36 to 35. The winner was in doubt until the finish of the relay race, the last event in which McPherson, anchor man for A. M. A., came in an inch or two ahead of the W. & L. swimmer. He showed some splendid swimming in both this and the fifty-yard dash, as did Rice, who swam a beautiful race in the 220-dash.

Augusta tallied up her fifth victory of the season in a return meet with the Waynesboro boys in the Fishburne pool, by a 36 to 32 score. This meet, as that of the W. & L. Freshmen large end of the score, alternated from side to side all through the meet; however, the last event placed it on Augusta's side and Fishburne went down to defeat for the second time in one season. Rice and Marston swam well in the 220, taking first and second place, as did Wiles and Taylor in the backstroke, McPherson's diving taking first place.

The big point men of the season were McPherson, first with 57¼ points, Taylor, second with 39½, and Rice, third with 29½.

Wrestling Team

To keep pace with Augusta's fast-growing athletics last year, a wrestling team was started which was very successful under the supervision of Capt. Parse. This year Capt. Summers took over the coaching, and by the end of the season developed a strong team; losing only one match in each of the last two meets.

At the first of the season a good squad turned out, and after the team had put on a few exhibitions the squad increased to twenty-four. Of these there were three letter men, several members of last year's squad. Roach, last year's heavyweight, was compelled to withdraw on account of sickness, and was unable to return till the morning of the last meet, in which he put up a splendid fight.

Five meets were secured against fast teams. V. M. I. fourth class proved the better team in two meets. W. & L. Freshmen went down to defeat, while Fishburne won from us. The team came back strong and met Fishburne in a return meet which ended in a glorious Augusta victory, allowing their opponents to make only five points.

Letters were awarded to Cacase, 115 pounds; Hogshire, E., 125 pounds; McLemore, and Williamson, M., 135 pounds; Roberts, 145 pounds (Capt.); Roach 159 pounds (Asst. Capt.), and Smith, K., 170 pounds.

With the prospects of next year we look forward to a still better record in several more meets. However, Augusta will keenly feel the loss of her stalwart and able Captain "Roberts," who has never sipped the dregs of the bitter cup of defeat. Not once, since he has supported the blue and white, have his shoulders been forced to the mat.

FINALS

All is bathed in golden splendor
As the moon shines through the trees;
Each shadowy twig bends gently—
Kissed by the cool summer breeze.
Faint music drifts sweet through the night
From the gymn where dancers sway;
Sentinels talk languidly by,
Waiting for the break of day.
Cars are parked where e'er they can squeeze;
Our parents and girls are here.
We've showed them what we've learned to do
And at length the end is near.
Lonely shadows and cozy nooks
Hide many a love struck pair;—
While others walk on moonlit paths
And joy is everywhere.
Tomorrow we'll leave each other,—
Sad tears will drown our glee,
But tonight is our night of dreams—
Fairyland for you and me!

Our Rainbow and Its End

This term's like a rainbow
That lingers in the sky,
And longer grows the bow
As each day passes by.
Dearer than pots of gold
Is the reward we'll find
Before the last is o'er
And the school's left behind.
Pleasures so sweet and fair
Riches could never lend
As the joy we'll find
At our bow's glowing end.

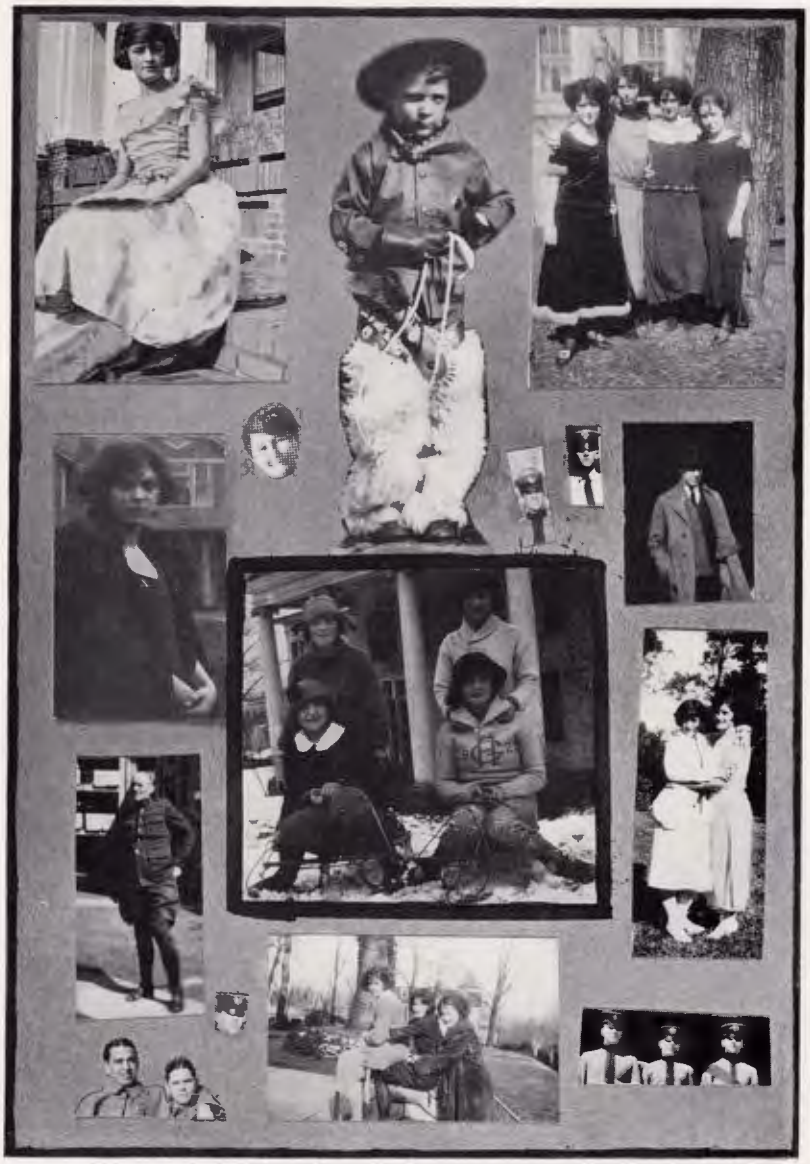

Winter at length is gone—
Those days that passed so slow;
The hills are bright with grass,
Where once they gleamed with snow.
Throughout the long, cold days
We dreamed of far off spring,
Of our last days toge'er
And the sweet joys they bring.
They've been our gleaming goal,
When books cease to offend—
Those days that end it all—
Our rainbow and its end.

"Old Men" long for finals
When all their toils are o'er;
The "Rats' " fondest dream is
To be a rat no more.
The dogs will bark with glee
When the last drum has beat—
They'll have to howl no more
When bugles blow retreat.
"Old Men," "Rats," and dogs have
Dreamings that sweetly blend;
They long for finals' joys—
Our rainbow and its end!

Feelings ineffable
These sweet dreamings bestir,
But they're naught as is felt
When the "last rites" occur.
There'll be plenty o' mirth
When finals roll around,
But, for each happy laugh,
There will be a tear found.
There'll be those in our midst
When we part—friend with friend—
Who'll leave us fore'er at
Our rainbow's glowing end.

They mean a lot to us,
Those boys who won't return;
We'll try to show them that
Before we all adjourn.
It's hard to say good-bye
To those who won't be back,
But, 'til that last sad word,
Nothing for them shall lack.
Before they part from us,
On different trails to wend,
We'll show our love for them
At their last rainbow's End.

—SHEPHERD.

In Years to Come

Make new friends
But keep the old,
The first are silver
The latter gold.—Tennyson.

Every man at one time or another looks back at his school-days and wonders what his pals of those days are doing in the world. He wonders how many who intended to become doctors, lawyers, or merchants, really arrived at their ambition, and he wishes he could see each familiar face just once again. Certainly it is a lucky man who, after a decade of years meets again friends of his school-days.

The graduating class of '23 at Augusta numbered me among its members, and, being no exception to the rule, I had often since wished to meet the fellows again but really never expected to meet the fellows again, until a sudden turn of events gave me the opportunity to fulfill my wish. After ten years of strenuous service in a well-known jewelry firm in Chicago, I was promoted to the position of head salesman and directed to make a trip to London and Paris in order to establish new markets for our goods.

My train was just passing through the outskirts of Chicago when a conductor asked for my ticket. He stared at me and I stared at him for a second before we recognized each other. It was none other than Ruckman himself, looking just as chipper as ever, and weighing perhaps a dozen pounds more. He sat down beside me and we held a regular "Bull Session." I told him about myself and he told me how, after leaving Augusta he had joined the Burns Detective Agency and was now posing as a train conductor in order to capture several desperate criminals who long had been defrauding the railroads.

Upon arriving in New York I immediately proceeded to keep an appointment with the buyer of a large jewelry store. You can imagine my surprise when I entered the "Private Office" of our old friend "Fleet-Foot" Heindl. We soon disposed of our business and he took me home for dinner with his charming wife and three little "Fleet-Feet."

It took me three days to complete my business in New York. On the fourth day I boarded a liner bound for London. The passenger list being crowded I was forced to occupy a stateroom with another man. Once again I had the good fortune to meet an old Augusta man, for the other occupant of my stateroom turned out to be Russell Bargamin. He was going to London from where he took the first boat to South Africa, for he had devoted his life to Missionary Service among the natives of Congo. During one of our talks he told me what some of our classmates were doing. These are some of the few I remember.

Jim Newlands is captain and owner of a fleet of fishing smacks in San Francisco Bay.

Harold Price and Johnny Lewis are teaching school at Augusta Military Academy.

After an interesting trip across I arrived in London. Wishing to be in the center of the city I decided upon a fashionable hotel near Trafalgar Square. Entering the hotel I approached the desk to register and there behind the counter was Stormont. His heart had been broken when his fiancee had deserted him and he had come to England to forget. Being an old friend of his I was given a splendid room and bath and was accorded the best of service and courtesy during my stay at the hotel. The only other Augusta man I met during my stay in London was W. G. Ellison, whom I met one day while walking down Henyon Street. Upon graduating from Annapolis he was given a commission as Gunner's mate in the "Horse Marines" and is now detailed as orderly in the American Embassy.

My business in London being successfully completed, I set out on a ship across the channel for Calais. From there I proceeded on to Paris. It is an odd circumstance that the first person I saw when I got off the train in Paris was Frank Blethen. He had come to Paris several years before to study the French language and literature success in that line was so marked that he had recently achieved the position as office boy to the editor of La Vie Parisienne. When I asked after his brother he told me that "Judge," after graduating from West Point as a corporal is now drilling a squad of Eskimos in Alaska.

Blethen invited me to take dinner with him at the Cafe de Paris and I gladly accepted his invitation. The Cafe de Paris is patronized largly by English and American tourists who speak very little or no French, so I think this was a very logical place in which to find Sam Steel the head waiter. After enjoying a delicious dinner of many varied courses I took leave of my old schoolmate and went about my business in Paris. Being in a hurry to keep an appointment I stepped into a waiting cab. I turned to the driver to direct him and recognized him as Dopey Parker. We became so absorbed in talking over old times that beside narrowly escaping accident we drove a mile past my destination. He had heard how a great many of the old boys were making names for themselves back in the States. These are some of the long list he gave me.

"Skipper" Rice has attained renown as a tamer of the most ferocious wild animals. Bengal tigers are his specialty.

Sively has acquired eminence through his wonderful new "pills for all ills."

Carlos Fajardo is the proprietor of an exceedingly prosperous fruit stand in New York.

I met no other Augusta men in Paris and the next week I left for America. On the ship returning I met Joe Borches and Tillie McNeal. Borches had made an extensive tour of the continent as foreign correspondent of the Whiz Bang. McNeal is the leading man in a troupe of classical dancers. He is a knockout when dressed in his leopard skin. One morning as we were about half way across, I picked up the ship's newspaper and the first article that caught my eye told of Husker Magie's election to the presidency of Princeton University.

I arrived in New York on the afternoon of the ninth day on the same night boarded a train for Washington, D. C. Upon reaching Washington and having several hours to spare I went to the Capitol to observe Congress in session. Holding the floor in the House of Representatives was Jimmie Davis, leader of the new Anarchist party. He was making a bitter attack upon Senator Cake Guvernator's bill for the raising of Senators' salaries.

Being in a hurry to go home I finished my business in Washington in record time and left for Chicago. On the train was Bill Roberts, who has now become famous as the world's flea-weight wrestling champion through the use of his terrible ear-lock.

My train pulled into Chicago the next night and I surely was glad to get home, even after such a pleasant trip as mine had been.

Looking back upon my trip it seems almost incredible to me, the things I accomplished in the few weeks I was gone. Besides being a complete success from a business standpoint my trip enabled me to fulfill my great desire to meet again the friends fo my school days.

A Page from the Diary of Hairpin Hector

Lately I has been worried by figuring as how when I shakes hands with Saint Peter they might not be nobody left who could write the bioligy of me for which the native multitudes will be clamouring, so, I figures what could be more better than to write my own ought-to-bioligy. Enyway, I has got to admit as what I slings a wicked line of ink. The following literachure is an account of a average monday morning at A. M. A. The reason I pick Monday Morning is because it don't take so much ink to write about it.

"Umph," I yells, as my roommate boots me in the shins to remind me first has went. I ammediately rolls over to grab off another handfull of snores. At the same time they toots first warning. I hops out of the clover and climbs into my rags. My roommate and me exchange the customary slams on the ancestors of buglars and O. D.'s before we ambles down to "rv." After they is satisfied none of us has been poisoned or kidnapped during the night we is dismissed. We then wends our way back to our cells, and proceed to dissolve off our counternances the terra firma what has collected thereon in the night.

Next we ankles over to the chow house where I manages to suurround an even half dozen eggs. I ain't no knocker and I hate to make cracks about the fodder, but if them eggs were ever laid by a hen she must have died of mortification.

After breakfast we amuses ourselves for awhile with drill, I ain't never in my life seen no such aimless preformances as we pulls off on that lot. Nobody seems to know where we is going, we hoofs it in one direction for awhile and then they marches us back; they runs out of places to walk us to and stops us, but we never stays stopped more than a couple minutes. After a half hour of this sort of foolishness they sees as how they ain't no use to send us noplace when there ain't nobody knows where they is going, so they toots the horn for us to call it off.

I deposits my artillery in my room and comes down to watch the unfortunates what has failed to walk the straight and narrow during the past week. For myself, I ain't had no more reports than a snake has feathers so I is exempt from punishment. Some of these Bimbo's what has strayed too far from the flock draws down 25 hours of making footprints around the stoops while the rest of us is snatching our forty winks. Most of them gets lighter sentences such as heaving rocks from one place to another or marching a few miles around the track. After these sentences is handed out all of us which is found "not guilty" is off for the day.

Parker's idea of a good job is hitting a gong in a hothouse every time the century plant blooms.

Squire: "My Lord, did you call?"
Launcelot: "Yess, make haste, get me a can opener, there is a flee in my knight-clothes."

Ellison (drilling new cadet): "Right face."
Ellison: "Is that your Right face?"
Hawkins: "It's the only one I have, Sir."

Capt. McLaughlan: "According to Milton's idea of the universe, where is Hell, Hodges?"
Hodges (suddenly waking at the sound of his name): "Here, Sir."

Capt. Rorer: "The next one who speaks will get ten hours."
Whisper in rear of room: "United we stand, divided we fall."
Capt. Rorer: "Who said that?"
Whisper: "Benjamin Franklin, Sir."

Ray: "Don't argue with me. I want you to understand that what I say goes."
Mechanic (crawling from under car): "For crap's sake say engine."

Major Roller (to chaperon): "Do you care to dance?"
Chaperon: "Why, sure."
Major Roller: "Wait a moment and I will see if I can scare up a partner for you."

Price (writing composition in class): "Captain, how do you spell sense?"
Capt. Stackhouse: "What kind of sense, dollars and cents, or horse sense?"
Price: "No Sir, I mean like I ain't seen him sense."

Major (in a hurry to go to Harrisonburg): "Alexander run over to my house and see if I didn't leave my pocketbook on my table. Hurry, I only have five minutes to wait."

Alexander (returning hurridly): "Yes, Sir; it's right there."

Winslow (balancing himself on chair): "Watch you will make me lose my equilibrium."

Hawkins (amazed): "Why, I didn't know you wore them."

Roberts: "My beard is certainly stiff, every time I want some neck this summer I'll have to shave."

Hall: "Don't do it, get some rough neck."

Major Jacob (in geometry class): "Now we have proved that x is equal to nothing."

Heindl: "Good night! All that work for nothing."

Fair one: "Aw, git away, kid, I'm saving my kisses."

Williamson, M.: "Let me contribute to your collection."

Exasperated Serg. (on firing line): "Do you know how to take a half sight?"

Katz: "Yes, Sir."

E. S.: "Did you ever see a fine sight?"

Katz: "Yes, Sir."

E. S.: "What is the finest sight you ever saw?"

Katz: "A boat load of Sergeants being sunk."

Capt. Carter: "I remember when the Youth's Companion was in its infancy."

Brown: "That's nothing, I remember when The Saturday Evening Post was a pogo-stick."

—"My dad has took up real estate."

—"How much?"

—"One shovelfull at a time."

Magie: "How is it that my shirt is torn?"

Our "simple" laundry: "Ah, that is where the rub comes in."

McGlue: "Where are you going in those pajamas?"

Greig: "On a midnight hunt."

McGlue: "What, in pajamas?"

Greig: "Yeh! I'm riding a nightmare."

Ireland: "Do you believe in love at first sight?"
Ray: "It all depends on the sight."

Dear Lib:

It has been simply ages since last I wrote you and goodness knows what horrid things you are thinking of me. But honestly dear, it just seems impossible for me to find a moment to myself.

There are so-o-o many things that I have to tell you that it puzzles me just where to begin. I think the Easter Hops at A. M. A. would be the most interesting as I acquired more scandal there than any other place I have been this year.

Really Lib, they were the first dances I had attended in three months and I was literally dying for excitement. Needless to say the A. M. A. boys gave it to me.

The floor was beautifully decorated. Streamers galore, balloons galore, 'n everything. The orchestra was simply glorious. Honestly dear, they were the trombones blast.

But I know you are really interested in the boys, as you know most of them. They all looked exquisite in their uniforms. I know it was stupid of me to laugh but I couldn't help it when I saw them frothing at their mouths on account of their tight collars.

I simply must tell you about "Cake Eating" Guvernator. I think he is a perfect scream. He has the cutest way about him. He became angry when I told him that he needed a concave partner. Aren't some boys silly?

You will simply die laughing when I tell you about "Crook" Kennedy. He's so-o-o- sheepish. He asked me to get up on his shoes and take a ride and then he told me I was muscle bound when he put his arms around me. Now wasn't that ridiculous?

Oh, yes! I musn't forget little Reggie (Baby) Thomas. I remember when he first came to A. M. A. they used to wheel him around in a baby carriage, and he always wanted me to get him a rattle. And, Lib, what do you think? You won't believe it but he is still chewing gum. He had nine sticks in his mouth at the dance. At least that is what he told me when he could open his mouth far enough to talk.

Capt. Summers and Turley are running neck and neck after the same girl. Isn't it scandlous? Bill Turley was reading some letter he received from her. He said he was on the 99th page already. You know, Bill has such a way with we helpless girls.

Of course you MUST know that delicious Eddie Kavanaugh. Isn't he perfectly adorable? I told him I could just die in his arms. You know his dancing is enough to kill anyone. And his room-mate, Bake Williamson has the funniest laugh. Honestly, it is just like a hyena.

Lib, have you ever met "FILTHY McNASTY?" I think "Newlands" is his nickname. He dances as though it were a matter of life and death with him. He started to laugh, but I told him he couldn't kid me, as I have heard a jackass bray before. Wasn't that cute of me?

That collegiate Stormont was here. It's really a shame he is allowed to go on living as dumb as he is. He asked me if Father Time and Mother Nature were the parents of the water babies.

Oh! I mustn't forget B. V. D. Ruckman. That boy is growing handsomer every day. Honestly, you wouldn't know him. They are going to use him for a pole vault in the next meet.

Ray was there learning how to dance. But he kept on saying "Much obliged" all the time. Finally Major Roller gave him the dickens for doing it; he (Ray) explained he was practicing for Lit Society.

Well, Lib, I suppose I have bored you long enough. Which reminds me that I owe Gunst and Capt Clark each a letter. Aren't they just too cute for words?

Don't miss the Final Bawl, I hear it's going to be great.

Yours for a moonlight special with Capt. Rorer.

CATHRINE.

BIG REWARD

STORMONT LOSES POWDER PUFF

BELIEVED STOLEN BY JIM SHORTS

Room 208, June 6.—While engaged in the usual rouging, eyebrow penciling, and reddening of the lips before the informal Saturday night, "Shiek Stormont" discovered a valuable powder puff belonging to him to be missing. It is believed that Jim Shorts on his daily tour may have acquired it. The only present clew is Ruckman, which is rather unsatisfactory.

STORM WARNINGS

FOR TODAY

Cloudburst near and around vicinity. High winds. Major Roller is loose again with McClannahan's "Japanese Ash Can."

OF INTEREST TO DUMB-BELLS

Ray can be heard without displaying his tonsils to the public.

Furber discovers eperdermis on his neck.

Steel, S., has too much endurance to tire of bobbing his head up and down the eighth period.

MORE DIRT

It is reported that "Rooster Pannell" has recently been seen chasing fouls over the parade ground.

We heard this one on "Stammering Harold":

Recruiting Sergeant: "What's your name and what branch of the service do you want to join?"

Price: "Pup-pup-pup-p-p-p-p-p——"

R. S. (writing): "Can't speak English and wants to join machine gun outfit."

The End

When the last of our drills are over,
And the band plays Auld Lang Syne;
When the old boys leave us forever;
And teachers are gone from our mind;
When young lads are gone for the summer
And the barracks are deserted and dead;
A feeling of sadness comes o'er us
And we know we cannot be glad.

'Tis hard to lose school chums forever,
And friends that are dearer than life;
Like a big family disbanding
As they enter life's long, hard strife.
We shall think of school teachers and boys;
Of each with a smile and a tear
And hope for a happy reunion
Some time in the future that's near.

We'll miss the old school in the country,
And friends who were always true blue,
We'll think of our good times together,
And also the burdens we drew.
We'll be glad when September comes
With football and the autumn winds;
But we'll miss the graduates a lot—
The boys whom we've left behind.

—W. G. C., Jr.

THE business part of the Annual would fall far short without the many loyal advertisers which always support and back up the A. M. A. RECALL. To the advertisers we owe more than thanks, in fact, without their co-operation more than one-third of our total revenue would be missing. Consequently, the editors sincerely trust that each individual will give the following pages careful consideration. We hope that each cadet and all A. M. A. supporters will extensively patronize the advertisers who so willingly made the publishing of this book possible.

—THE EDITORS.

Since 1851

A policy of life insurance is not a mere "scrap of paper," a hazy phantom that "COSTS MONEY." It is an indelibly written binding GUARANTEE of education, food, shelter, clothing — their CHANCE IN LIFE to widows, fatherless children and other dependents; a positive assurance of comfort and independence in old age; the teacher and guardian of thrift; a giver of strength to business and its strong defense against failure; the saviour of estates threatened with destruction by taxation; a very present help in time of financial trouble; an unfailing source of income in event of total and permanent disability—the PROOF of LOVE, the HIGH PRIEST of DUTY, the SYMBOL of SELF RESPECT, the ENEMY of SELFISHNESS —a TEST of CHRISTIANITY.
